

LEARN THE LINGO

Boudin /bōō'dan/: A seasoned Cajun sausage containing rice and meat or seafood. Try some at Q&C Bar!

Tasso /tāsō/: Spicy cured pork cut into strips.

Lagniappe /lān'yap/: "A little something extra".

Beignet /ben'yā/: A square of fried dough, usually topped with powdered sugar. Try some at Q&C bar!

Roux /rōō/: Mixture of flour and oil that forms the base of gumbo.

"Laissez les bons temps rouler": "Let the good times roll".

Neutral Ground: The grassy median that divides many New Orleans streets.

Go-Cup: The term used to describe taking your cocktail-to-go in a plastic container.

Cracklin': Fried pork rinds. Try some at Q&C bar!

NEIGHBORHOOD spotlight

BYWATER/MARIGNY: Home to many artists and musicians, the Bywater/Marigny is a growing hub of cultural activity, live music, and eclectic restaurants. Start your day at Satsuma with a fresh juice, then spend the afternoon sipping wine in the garden at Bacchanal. After dark, head to live punk music at Siberia, and dine al fresco late night at Oxalis. Check out their hidden cocktail bar in the back, The Branch (you can thank us later). Craving BBQ? The Joint is the spot.

FITNESS

Burn off those beignets or just get your zen on. Our favorite places:

Gym: Q&C Fitness Center, 2nd Floor, Crescent Building

Yoga: Reyn Yoga, 725 Magazine Street

Spin: Higher Power, 514 City Park Ave

NEW & NOTEWORTHY

Angeline: Enjoy a fresh approach to classic southern cooking at this new eatery in the French Quarter. Tucked in a quiet part of the French Quarter, Angeline is a cozy spot for a date night or family outing. 1032 Chartres, 504-308-3106

Ursa Major: Named for the famed constellation, Ursa Major takes celestial dining to another level. With an all night happy hour for those whose "zodiac signs are ruling the heavens", they add a unique spin to the drinking and dining scene in New Orleans. 611 O'Keefe Avenue (inside the Paramount) 504-309-8765 Call for reservations. Currently only serving dinner.

Welcome to Q&C Hotel/Bar, and welcome to New Orleans. At Q&C, we believe you're here to visit New Orleans, not just a hotel. With the help of our on-site New Orleans expert, Amy, the Q-rator, you'll be sure to do just that. She's here to make it easy for you to explore what's happening - right now - in New Orleans, with the help of this guide, and via email at Qrator@QandC.com.

August IN NEW ORLEANS

AUGUST kicks off the beginning of the fall social and festival season as locals celebrate the last days of summer. This August also marks the 10 year anniversary of Hurricane Katrina, and New Orleanians are taking a look back at the tragedy as well as how far the city has come in the years since.

WHITE LINEN NIGHT

Put on your crisp white linens and stroll the Julia Street Galleries, just a few blocks from Q&C for the 18th annual White Linen Night. August 1st

DIRTY LINEN NIGHT

Like White Linen Night but on Royal Street in the French Quarter. Traditionalists wear last week's dirty linens, giving this art walk its name. August 8th

RED DRESS RUN

Put on a red dress (yes, guys, you too) and head to the French Quarter for a day of "running", bar hopping, and most of all drinking - for local charities. August 8th

KATRINA 10 YEAR

August 29th marks 10 years since Hurricane Katrina, and New Orleanians will be commemorating the event with installations and events all month long.

ATTRACTIOnS

MUSEUMS

New Orleans is home to world renowned museums, many within walking distance to Q&C Hotel. Experience the battles of WWII at the nation's only World War II Museum, see regional artist's on display at Ogden Museum of Southern Art, take the kids over to the Children's Museum, or walk through the modern exhibits at the Contemporary Arts Center. All are located just 7 blocks up Magazine Street from Q&C Hotel.

CITY PARK

City Park is a destination for the whole family. The 150 year old park features the New Orleans Museum of Art, the Sydney Walda Besthoff Sculpture Garden, the New Orleans Botanical Garden, the Storyland Amusement Park for kids and even a Golf Course. The park is also home to the largest collection of live Oak trees in the world, some dating back over 600 years. Get to the park by car, bike, or the Canal Streetcar line.

EXCURSIONS

Explore the city and beyond on one of many tours and excursions. Learn the history behind the beautiful buildings and homes of the Garden District or the French Quarter on a guided walking tour, taste the city's finest culinary offerings on a Food Tour, or head out to the Swamps to experience the wildlife of the bayou. At the Whitney Plantation, you can see plantation life from the slave's point of view, or head to Oak Alley & Laura Plantation to see the creole southern life preserved through artifacts and first-hand accounts of the families that lived there. See the front desk or email qandc@qandc.com to arrange.

AUDUBON

Formerly a sugar plantation, Audubon Park is now a lush green oasis in the Uptown neighborhood. A 1.7 mile running track circles around the Audubon Golf Course - the only course in the Uptown area. The Audubon Zoo is home to a large collection of exotic animals including Giraffes, a Bengal Tiger, and a white alligator. While not on the Uptown property, the Audubon Aquarium of the Americas is just down the street from Q&C in the French Quarter and is home to penguins, sea creatures, and interactive areas to play with the animals. Also in the French Quarter, the Audubon Butterfly Garden and Insectarium has butterflies and bugs to surprise and delight the whole family.
